. ead an ull field. A Ursinus back to to turn his end, then slipped t being touched. In disgust he threw to the mud, and, on the sidelines, it seemed he home team might manage a scoreless tie.
, but certainly no reason for elation. I re-ned to soccer.

There the continuing rout monopolized my attention. Suddenly I was distracted by persistent cheering from an unlikely source. Save for a cluster of muddy players, the football field was almost deserted, but the noise was undoubtedly coming from that direction. The Ford's goalie and fullbacks were as startled as I was. While they peered through the gloom toward the football field, a LaSalle lineman dribbled in unmolested and tallied the Explorer's only goal of the day. But no one cared. We were all preoccupied with news of a more striking occurance: Haverford had scored a touchdown.

Despite ballyhooed breakthroughs and a carload of court decrees, the Deep South's resilient resistance to school integration has been remarkably effective: only 2¼% of the 2,980,000 Negro school children in eleven Southern states actually sat in classrooms last year with whites.

"So begob the citizen claps his paw on his knee and he says:
- Foreign Wars is the cause of it.
And says Joe, sticking his thumb in his pocket:
- It's the Russians wish to tyrannize.

Indoctrination

Another "America Stinks" group has been formed — this time at Haverford College. It's simply another manifestation of the liberal mind at work. What else can we expect after nearly 40 years of intensive liberal indoctrination in our schools and colleges.
